State and Government Men Guard Against Spread of Cholera

It was determined that half the hogs in the vicinity were either suffering from the disease or had been exposed to the disease. There are several hundred hogs in that vicinity, it is reported.

The vaccination of the animals will be continued through today and tomorrow. It was made this week to determine whether animals in those sections are actually affected.

SCHOOL TAX BILL INCREASES LEVY

Biennial Budget Carrying $2,276,188 Appropriation to Be Reported Today

STATE CAPITOL, Mar. 9.—An increase of two and one-tenth mills in the general and district school tax levy of the state for the next two years is proposed in the tax levy bill which will be introduced in the house today by the committee on appropriations.

The increase is from five mills, the levy of two years ago, to 7.1 mills, and is due to the passage last fall of the constitutional amendment providing for a tax levy which, together with any other state funds available for district school purposes, will equal $25 for each person of school age in the state, as shown by the last preceding school census, and also due to the incorporation of this amendment in the tax levy bill.

Incorporation of this constitutional amendment in the tax levy bill this year was made possible by the passage of House bill No. 29, by Senate resolution, over which there was a considerable debate in the lower house during the early part of the present legislative session.

BUDGET PREPARED
The biennial budget for 1921-1922, according to the report of the joint committee on appropriations, which was filed in both houses today, will amount to $2,276,188. It is an increase over the budget of two years ago of $276,188.55, but members of the appropriation committee declare that the increase in the budget is due to the fact that the appropriations included in it will take care of a large part of the present deficit of the state—said to be something more than $800,000—and that the taking care of part of the deficit in this manner and partly by a bond issue of $500,000 will result in the complete wiping out of the deficit during the biennium.

In 1919 the state and school tax levy was divided as follows:

The sum directed to be raised for general state purposes was $2,000,000. For the purpose of raising this sum a minimum tax of 2.4 mills was permitted. For the purpose of raising sums for the support of district schools a tax of 2.4 mills was levied and for the support of district high schools the levy was 2 mill.

This year and in 1922 it is proposed to raise $2,276,188.55 for general state purposes, but it is stated that this increase in the amount it is proposed to raise will tend to wipe out some of the existing state deficit. However, besides increasing the budget for the biennium the tax levy bill increases the levy for district school purposes so that $25 shall be available for each person of school age. The district school levy in 1919 was 2.4 mills. This year it will be 4.6 mills, and again the same levy in 1922. The levy for high school purposes is unchanged, remaining at 2 mill.

GOVERNMENT'S EXCHANGED
The biennial budget, as passed on by the joint appropriation committee, includes every item that was originally in the budget as prepared by the governor's office, and it also includes the supplemental appropriations asked for. It does not strike any of the appropriations proposed for departments that have been legislated out of existence, but it takes in the proposed appropriations for the new departments that have been created. It is expected, according to members of the appropriation committee, that there will be considerable difference in favor of the state when the appropriations allowed for a department that has been eliminated and that used by a newly created department are compared.

The budget has been trimmed by the appropriations committee, but not to the extent that it was at first intended. The principal slashes in the proposed appropriations include the salaries of state bank examiners, from $14,000 to $12,000. The proposed appropriations for state bank examiners, however, will have to be restored, for the house yesterday killed the bill which provided that they be reduced from $3600 to $3000 annually. Cost of maintenance of the state capitol is cut from $90,000 to $80,000; printing departmental reports and legislative bills, $22,000 to $20,000; printing assessment rolls, $2500 to $2000; printing taxpaying statements, $1200 to $1000; binding public documents, $600 to $500; purchase of Utah reports, $1500 to $750; salaries of one member of the state land board, a reduction in this item of $21,000, the salaries of the five-member board having been $29,000 for the biennium, and for the one member, $8000.

DRY ENFORCEMENT FUND CUT
The salaries of the members of the state board of equalization, according to the budget, are to be reduced from $32,000 to $24,000 for the biennium; salaries of chief clerk and other employees are reduced from $12,000 to $10,000, and contingent and traveling expenses are cut from $5000 to $38,000.

Although there is a reduction in the proposed appropriation for the University of Utah of from $120,000 to $126,000, the budget allows an appropriation of $4000 to the university for a department of archaeology, and the university allowance is actually not trimmed.

The committee made a drastic cut in the office of the prohibition bureau, reducing the budget item for salary of clerk and contingent expenses from $2720 to $250. It was said that there is no need of a clerk in this department.

The budget, it was said yesterday, includes deficits that have accumulated, and the statement is made by members of the appropriations committee that these deficits will be entirely wiped out by the time the next legislature meets.

Packer Says Union Officials' Charges About Wage Cut Are Not True

CHICAGO, March 9.—A statement denying charges that the packers "would welcome a strike as a means of getting rid of accumulated products which are now in storage," was issued today by J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Company. The charges were made yesterday by Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Order of Meat Cutters & Butchers Workmen of North America, in commenting on wage reductions announced by the packers.

"Statements that strikes or labor troubles would be welcomed by meat packers as an aid to disposing of big accumulations of meat are wholly erroneous," Mr. Armour said.

He declared the bulk of American meat consumption is of fresh meat and that the government's March report showed cold storage meat, lard, etc., was a billion pounds less than for the corresponding month last year.

"Sixty per cent of our employees appreciate that lower production costs are essential and justifiable and we do not believe they are going to be swayed by a few self-styled leaders, whose jobs and salaries are always in danger except when there is conflict," the statement continued.

"Our action with regard to wages is a definite part of the whole nation's campaign to get back to normal."
